

Training, Mentoring & Coaching

"Think of coaching and mentoring as an investment. It's not a crutch. It's "capacity building" that delivers a strategic, operational and tactical competitive advantage.

As mentioned earlier, we have worked across the globe in a diverse spectrum of private sector, public sector, NGO, IGO and military capacities, for CEO, Head of State, Head of Mission clients, in a wide range of business sectors including: security, intelligence, defence, management, manufacturing, trade, agriculture, media, nation building, justice, education, water & power, energy, transportation, financial, environmental, rule of law, construction, reconstruction, etc.....

.....and regardless of environment, the requirement to constantly invest in the professional development of our people, teams and allies was critical to mission success.

Whether its individual or collective training to impart skills, or mentoring and coaching to professionally develop individuals and teams, SRTC stands ready to help. For us, these subjects are not merely "fill-in-the-blanks" issues - rather, they are topics that are fundamental to gaining and maintaining a competitive advantage.
